AS TIME GOES BY . . .

Time is an interesting thing. It is the most common factor present in life . . . in existence. As far as man knows time is perpetual, uncontrollable, and, the most perplexing of its characteristics, it is indefinable. Time is commonly associated with clocks, calendars and day and night. Since the length of a person's life is measured in time, a lifetime is thought of in terms of what accomplishments one does during his life. What one experiences during his life and becomes aware of determines what amount of benefit one derives from life. In the present society education is a vital factor in being aware, and education is becoming increasingly more vital as the world becomes more complicated with its technical advancements.

Four years out of a lifetime are spent in high school. These four years are, perhaps, the most beneficial years that a person will experience, for in these years, all basic education that prepares a person to be mentally independent is completed.

This will be a familiar scene to those who frequented the football games during the season. Here, we see the Mustangs preparing their defence during this year's homecoming game. The Mustangs were unable to beat Proviso East in a brilliant attempt by both teams.

Several members of the Morton East band are admiring their float which took first place in the judging. Students will remember the music department as traditionally making a top class float.

High school memories will always be filled with treasured moments of laughter and happiness such as those of homecoming day. The air was crisp and rang with excitement. After many hours of hard work, the floats and cars were finally ready to be displayed in the parade. The queens, seated upon their thrones, added the majestic note to the long line of decorated vehicles while the onlooking crowd followed the parade to the traditional homecoming game. The bleachers and stands were filled with happy and anxious rooters who cried for victory. The team played well but was unable to beat the opposition. However, through the excitement of the day, the fans were able to maintain the spirit of enthusiasm which filled the air with a thrilling feeling. After the games those who had prepared for an evening at the dance rushed home to rest and get ready. In some ways, the dance, Happily Ever After, was the highlight of the entire homecoming. So finally, the end of a perfect day comes to a close on another year's homecoming.

ONCE UPON A TIME

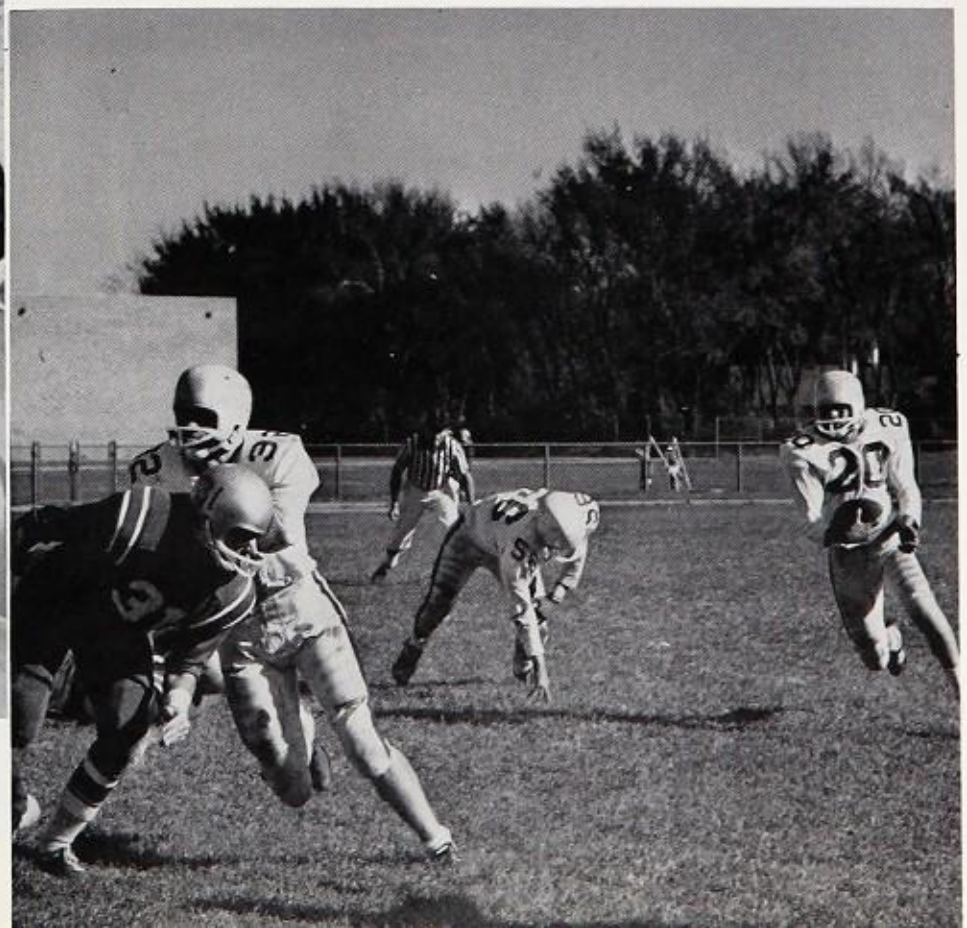

The homecoming dance in some ways was the highlight of the entire homecoming; the queens (pictured here), Linda Hagensee, sophomore, and Kathy Holoubek, senior, officially begin their reign as the 1963-64 queens.

During the last minutes before the parade, the clubs make final preparations to see that everything is as perfect as possible.

Rick Mann, one of the smaller but toughest backs in the league, runs the end in an attempt for extra yardage.

THE DISPLAY OF

Delegates listen as Dr. Antal opens the U. N. Assembly with a speech on world peace.

The school year of 1963-64 has been a time in which much has taken place and has been innovated into the lives of the students. For the purpose of exercising the mind and utilizing talents, the extra-curricular activities have been expanded and improved. The combined efforts of the faculty and the student body has enabled many new clubs, organizations and activities to be created so that a student may find something to attract and entertain his interests. This includes athletics as well as fine arts and purely mental interests. As pictured here, students, who participated in the marching band, special events such as the U. N. Model Assembly, and appeared on the television program, It's Academic, represented only a small number of the students who enjoyed the benefits of Morton's extra-curricular activities.

Bands present another outstanding halftime show.

UNLIMITED TALENT

Brad Glorvigen, Carol Everly, and Jim Robin represent Morton East on the television quiz program for high schools, It's Academic.

The senior graduation at Morton West is the scene of several hundred graduating seniors, several hundred proud parents and relatives and countless memories of the past, present, and future.

PROMINENT MEMORIES

The pleasures of the prom can be seen on the faces of the students who had waited eagerly for these moments.

Nothing better exemplifies all the toil, the laughter, and the tears that our high school career contains than the last weeks of school life . . . the prom and graduation. Life becomes hectic as the seniors rush about madly making their final plans for the last days of school. At last the day of the prom arrives, and the evening becomes a night to be cherished and remembered. But still there remains the activities of graduation day which is a source of anticipation among the whole graduating class. All too soon the day is here, and we, with diploma in hand, leave what was for four years a high school life to face a future with the benefits of our past education to guide us. We, to be sure, will never forget the prominent memories that were high school life, because it was in high school that we stepped into reality and maturity.

Here, three scientists show concern over two new robot models which later overpower their makers. This basic plot set the scene of the spring drama department production of R.U.R. This was one of three public productions staged by Morton East.

DRAMATIC EXPRESSION

For those students who have special interests and talents for dramatics, the superb faculty of Morton's dramatic department gives a wonderful opportunity to study dramatics. After careful instruction the students present plays in school and to the public. This year West Side Story, The Heiress, and The Boy Friend were given in the Little Theater and in Morton West's auditorium. West Side Story was this year's all district play. Some 700 people, in all, were connected with the staging. A combined all district band was chosen from the Morton schools to add the musical background to the play. Those who saw West Side Story will agree that it was a great production. "No student is too young for West Side Story and no adult is too old. It uses song, dance, and drama as media of expression as no other music-drama has succeeded in doing. It elevates the heart as it unveils its thesis clearly and honestly."

This scene, from West Side Story, is the dance at the gym with the members of the Sharks and the Jets. It was one of the many scenes of the play which was presented four times.

WEST SIDE STORY

Indicative of the many improvements and advancements in the building is this scene of the newly annexed main office which houses the offices of the administration and several modern rooms in which students receive private counseling for curricula.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANCEMENTS

Also constructed this year was the badly needed centralized library to make work more efficient for the students. The new library has such special features as a recording room, catalogue rooms, a career room to aid students in studies-as much as possible.

For those who went to summer school, this scene will be remembered as a proud one, graduation day. Mr. P. Kasik, dean of summer school, and Dr. Cooper are presenting two with their diplomas for work successfully completed.

CONTINUOUS

With the rooms lit the modern construction of the inside corridor presents an interesting view against the night sky.

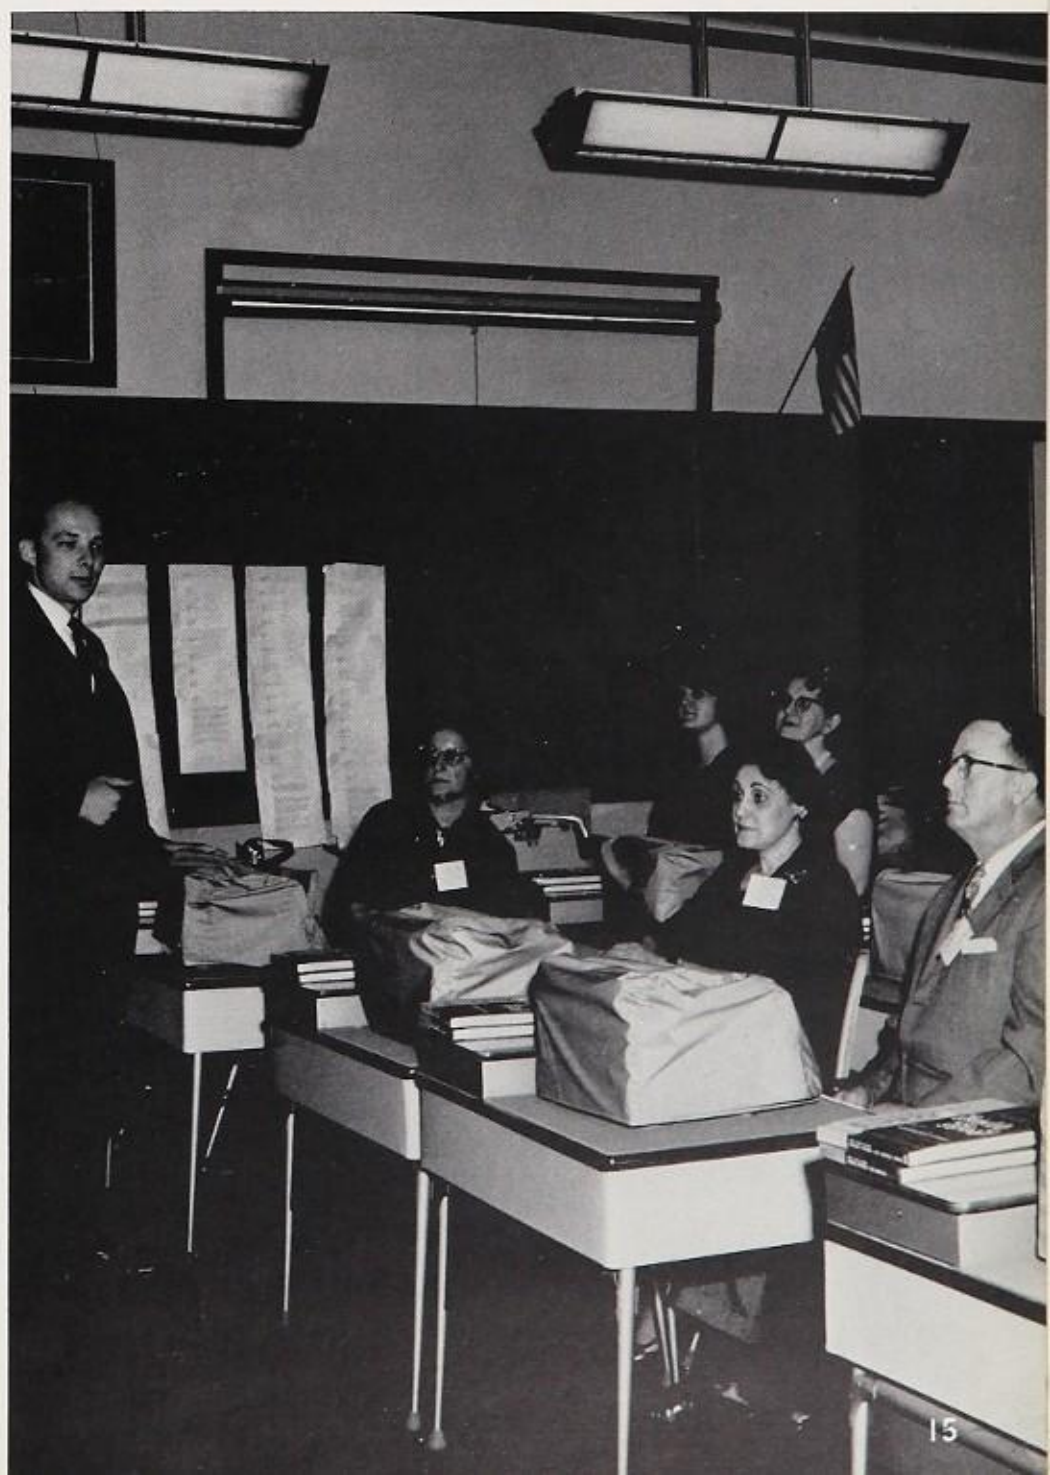

Also included in summer school sessions is the teaching of music. Above, Mr. Frantik directs members of the band in a rehearsal to keep the students tuned for regular school sessions.

EDUCATION

Designed for those students who for some reason did not achieve the required amount of credit for the previous year or for those students who strive for enrichment is the Morton summer school. Summer school sessions were held in two main divisions for two semesters of work. If satisfactory grades are obtained students will graduate summer school and receive full credit just as they would from regular school. A very large variety of subjects are taught depending on the demand of the subjects at the time. These include special courses such as driving, music and practical arts. The classes given during the summer sessions should not be considered easier than those given during regular school. Equal amounts of studies must be assimilated and in a much smaller amount of time. Therefore, the studies are concentrated in several hours of work per day. Frequently classes can be seen playing baseball in the parking lot to add some recreation into the day's classes.

Serving in the same capacity as the summer sessions at Morton are the sessions of evening school which meet every Monday and Thursday evening during the week. Several varieties of subject matter are taught such as English classes, typing, and courses in practical arts. Many times, adults, in trying to obtain a certain job discover that they are lacking a certain requirement necessary for the position. With sincere interest these adults or any post-high school student can earn the required amount of credit or skill to obtain the job. Night school, as it is commonly called, has become very successful over the years, and Morton can certainly be very proud of the reputation that they have established.

Typing, a course often required for certain career positions, is taught as pictured here in adult education-night school. Mr. Smith is the instructor of this class.

Anxiety and pride in the preparation of senior graduation

'63

The spring season of 1963 was truly an eventful portion of the year for many Morton students. The outstanding activities, athletic events, and the social functions will be long remembered in the minds of those who participated in them or viewed them. The graduation was probably the most outstanding event held in the spring. Both parents and graduating seniors will recall the pride and expectation leading up to the honored moment. The prom was admittedly the outstanding social function for juniors and seniors. Other spring events were the annual science fair, the annual art fair, the spectacular trips offered during the Easter vacation to Washington, D.C., New York, and Detroit, and from the fine arts department the wonderful concerts and drama presentations.

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Cooper—Superintendent

Dr. Cooper's formal education was gained in the state of Missouri. At Central Missouri State College Dr. Cooper obtained his BS. After leaving CMS College, he entered Missouri University from which he received his Master and Doctor of Education degrees.

Dr. Cooper came to Morton in 1953. After serving for six years as Morton's principal, he was elected by the Board of Education to the position of Superintendent of District 201.

Dr. Cooper spends his relaxation time at golfing and on projects which require one to do-it-yourself.

The Board of Education

The Board of Education was organized to provide the best education and educational needs of the school and students, but it is not an administrative group. The Board requests a balanced educational program with an adequate school curriculum. It is responsible for the employment of all staff personnel, on recommendation of the Superintendent. The Board also approves the school's budget and requires the staff to effectively administer it.

Dr. Walter L. Cooper

Mr. J. C. Soper, attorney; Mr. E. W. Chodl, president; Mr. O. P. Pecha Jr., secretary; Mr. J. J. Zourek, Mr. G. Prosch, Mr. G. Nemec, Mr. O. Oplatka, Mr. C. Janata.

EXPERIENCE

Dr. Roy C. Turnbaugh

Dr. Turnbaugh—Assistant Superintendent

Dr. Turnbaugh graduated from Pittsfield High School. He received his BA at Western University and his MA at Bradley University.

The ambitions and energy of this man have been rewarded by his attaining the positions of principal of Morton West and Assistant Superintendent of District 201. Some of his duties include work with the classroom teachers, the students, and occasionally with the parents of students.

Despite his heavy and carefully organized schedule, Dr. Turnbaugh finds the energy for two of his favorite pastimes, reading and gardening.

Dr. Evan H. Kelley

Dr. Ondrus—Business Manager

Dr. Ondrus is a graduate from Morton High School. His high school sports included football and wrestling. For his high school wrestling achievements he was awarded the National Interscholastic Wrestling medal. While attending the University of Illinois, he was rewarded for his wrestling abilities by winning the university's wrestling championship. He majored in physical education and minored in science. At Northwestern he completed his MA in administration.

In 1939 he was Morton's varsity football and wrestling coach. After he became a counselor and then Dean of Men at Junior College. In 1953 he completed his work for the Doctor of Education degree.

One of Dr. Ondrus' hobbies is singing. He used to sing on the WDWS radio where he was referred to as the "Singing Coach." He enjoys traveling, and his favorite outdoor sport is "golf, of course."

Dr. Kelley—Principal

Dr. Kelley's school curriculum was centered on engineering, although his ambition was to play professional baseball. During his first year after graduation from high school in Maytinwood, Missouri, Dr. Kelley did play professional baseball, but later he enrolled in Southern Illinois University. At SIU he wrote a political column for both the college newspaper and Carbondale's local paper. Dr. Kelley was the college boxing champion for two years. His interest in sports led him to officiate at various sports games for both high schools and colleges.

Dr. Kelley was engaged in his administrative work at Morton in 1958. In January of 1964 Dr. Kelley received his Doctor's degree of Education from Indiana University.

Most of Dr. Kelley's experiences have been associated with small schools. He avows that it is a "real experience" being able to work in a school as large as Morton.

Dr. Vincent J. Cerveny

Dr. Cerveny—Curriculum Co-ordinator

Dr. Cerveny graduated from both Morton High School and Junior College. He also attended the University of Chicago where he obtained his BA in history and his MA in social science. Besides doing graduate work at Northwestern, he also received a Professional Certificate in School Administration. After having taught history and family psychology, he became head of the Social Science Division. In 1963 he completed his work for the Doctor of Education degree. In his present position he misses the "joys of teaching—meeting new students." His present main job is to keep the "curriculum as up to date as tomorrow."

Dr. S. G. Kosinski

Dr. S. G. Kosinski—Assistant Principal

Dr. Kosinski, a member of Morton Junior College's first graduating class, was elected to the first chapters of the JSM and MJC National Honor Societies. After his graduation from MJC he attended Northwestern, where he obtained his BS, MS, and PhD in education. His first job was teaching social science at Morton. In 1958 he was appointed assistant principal of Morton.

Including his student years Dr. Kosinski has been at JSM for forty-one years. For his years of service and schooling at Morton he holds seniority over all the other administrative staff members. That he has been able to view a tremendous amount of the school's progress has been his greatest experience in his work.

Mr. Lawrence F. Tuleen

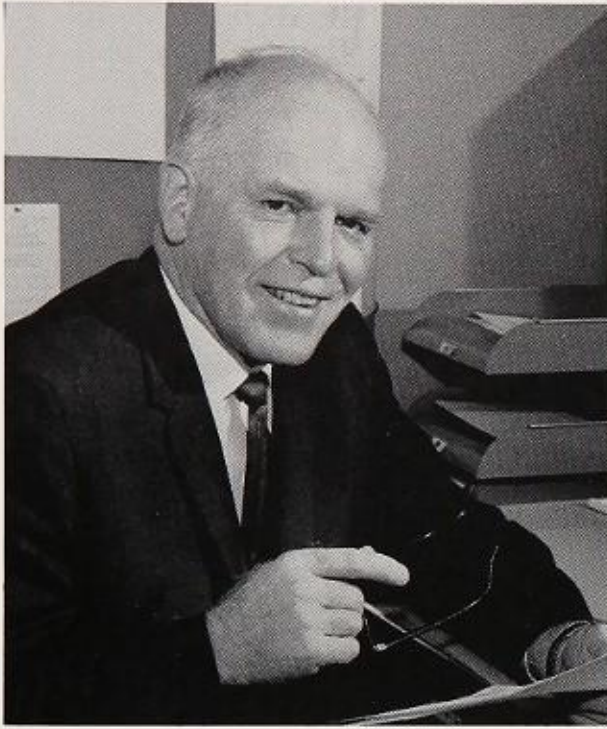

Mr. L. F. Tuleen—Public Relations

The dry, barren plain of North Dakota is the land where Mr. Tuleen grew up and attended school. At fifteen, when he graduated from high school, he journeyed to Rock Island, Illinois, to attend Augustana College. He majored in education and minored in history, Spanish, and Swedish. At Iowa University he obtained his Master's degree in chemistry. Mr. Tuleen has taught chemistry, and has been a band director. His present job consists of too much paper work and not enough student contact as he would like to have.

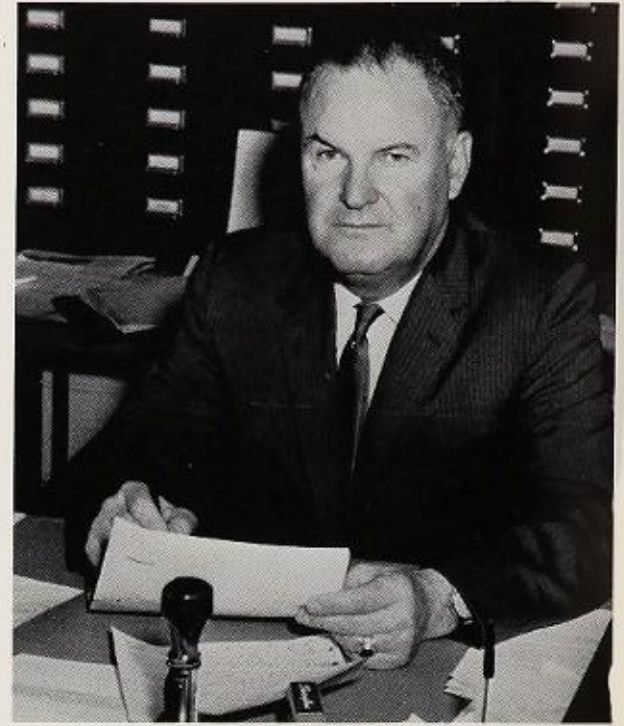

Mr. Tuleen likes to spend his spare time fishing in Minnesota. However, when he isn't in Minnesota he uses his time at his home, gardening. He does some plant breeding and raising of "fancy flowers."

Mr. K. Kluklinski

Receiving clerk . . . Mr. Kluklinski has been a Mortonite since his high school years. After graduation from high school he was employed at Morton, working in the registration department. He then worked in the receiving room and became Morton's first receiving clerk.

Mr. Kluklinski's interests are bowling in Morton's Employees' Bowling League, keeping his coin collection up to date, fishing, and traveling.

Textbook Manager . . . After graduating from Morton High School, Mr. West attended DePaul University, majoring in marketing research. When Mr. West came to work at Morton it was in the maintenance department, although he soon acquired his present position. Mr. West's greatest hobby is still baseball. He manages the Connie Mack and other little leagues throughout the summer. Although his work at school and in the little leagues keeps Mr. West busy, he does find time for his other outdoor sports, hunting, and fishing.

Mr. H. West

Mr. T. Black

Supervisor of Grounds and Building . . . Mr. Black studied mechanical engineering at MJC and at the Armour Institute of Technology. His first job connected with schools was at Riverside-Brookfield High School, where he was superintendent of the maintenance department.

Mr. Black declares that it is a real challenge to keep the Morton buildings up to date in the modern methods of building maintenance. His hobbies include basketball, which he played in his high school years, and reading.

Ticket Office Manager . . . Mr. Petrdil graduated from Morton High School. He went to DePaul University to earn his BA and music degrees. During the war he attained the rank of captain in the Air Force. Besides earning a Purple Heart and a special air medal for his missions in ETO, he became a member of the Caterpillar Club, whose members are pilots who bailed out of disabled planes in action.

Mr. Petrdil's talent for playing the piano keeps him busy in civic functions of the VFW and of the American Legion. Mr. Petrdil often spends his free time skiing or fishing.

BASEBALL - SPLIT SECOND DECISIONS

Pitcher Bill Posen discusses strategy with catcher Dennis Vidoni.

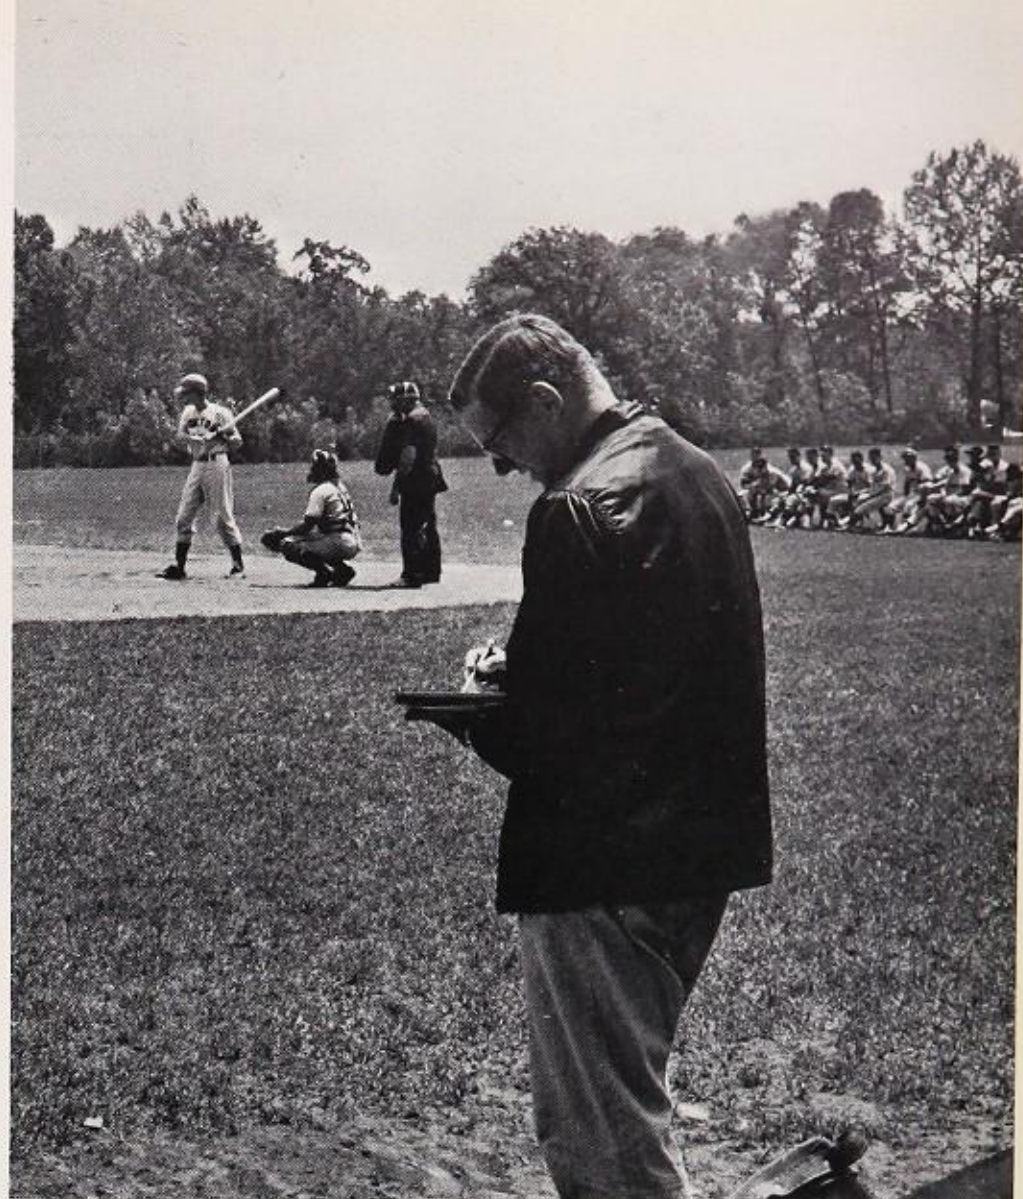

BASEBALL

Baseball is known as America's favorite sport, and rightly so, for it is a very exciting game. Contrary to common thought, baseball is also a very interesting sport. It is a sport requiring split second decisions, decisions which sometimes mean the win or loss of a game. On the high school level, therefore, it is also very exciting and interesting. The only difference between high school ball and professional ball is the amount of innings played, which is nine for the pros and seven for those in high school. The action is, nevertheless, extremely lively on both levels and provides an extremely interesting mode of entertainment for everyone. In both cases, the size of the field is the same, 90 feet from base to base, 60 feet from home plate to mound, and an outfield distance in excess of 300 feet. The equipment is also the same, and in many respects, high school baseball is the same as major league baseball.

Tom Vaclavek connects with the ball.

Manager Bob Preucil calculates team's statistics.

TRACK - STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

Leon Globke strains as he runs the relay.

Track and field, one of the oldest sporting events in the world, originated in Greece and now forms one of the most important sections of the Olympic games. On the interscholastic level, track and field offers many different events. The high jump, broad jump, pole vault, dashes, relays, and hurdles are self explanatory. A relay team consists of four members while a hurdle team may contain as many members as the schools have. In both the high jump and the pole vault, three attempts are made; and the best out of the three is used in competition. By knocking the cross bar over in either event, the jumper disqualifies that attempt. In the shotput and the discus throw, the thrower is restricted to a seven foot circle. If he goes out of the circle, the throw is eliminated. The shotput and the discus throw are the only events requiring a great amount of strength, though they, as the rest, also depend on agility, endurance, and co-ordination.

Gerry Gasiorowski finishes hurdles in League Meet.

Rick Mann goes up and over in the pole vault.

Jim Autowski clears high jump bar by inches.

GOLF AND TENNIS - PRECISION SKILL

To many people, tennis appears an easy sport. They are mistaken, however, for it is a very difficult sport, requiring skill and endurance, along with speed and quick reactions. The winner of a game is the first one to score four times before his opponent does so and, at the same time, be two points ahead of him. If a person is only one point ahead when he takes four points from his opponent, the game is continued until one of them is ahead by two points. The first person to win six games, again by a margin of two games, wins a set. The winner of the match is the person who wins two sets. In interscholastic tennis, each school enters five teams, three singles teams and two doubles teams, and the school that wins three out of five matches wins the meet.

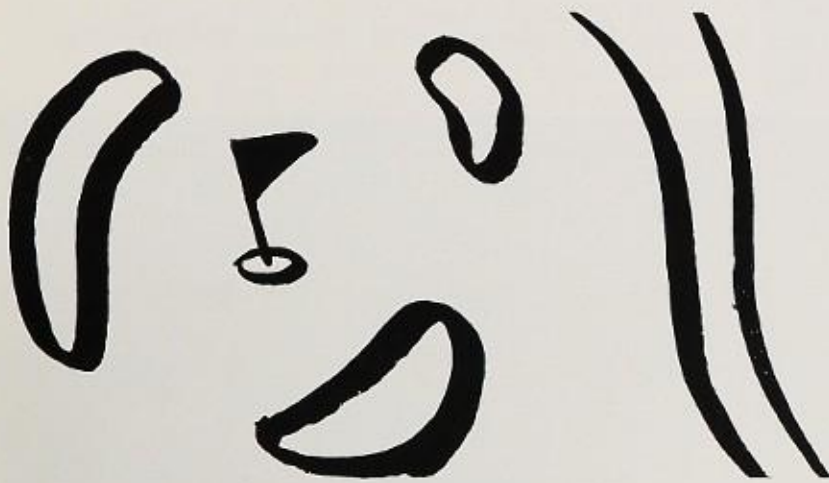

First Row: K. Sippl, D. Simone, R. Marks, J. Magracken, T. Vais. Second Row: W. Liska, R. Fenili, T. Lavorato, A. Klail, L. Bolin.

Golf is an ancient game which originated in Scotland. To the uninformed eye, it appears as a sport which consists of hitting a small ball around until it goes into a hole. Golf, however, is a very exacting sport requiring precision swings of the clubs. The average drive of 230 yards is hardly sufficient to cover the average distance from tee to hole, 380 yards, so by carefully selecting his clubs, the skilled golfer can put the ball in the hole with the minimum number of strokes. Also, by skillfully avoiding hazards, such as water traps, sand traps, and wooded areas, he avoids penalty shots, thereby lowering his score. In interscholastic golf meets, a certain number from each school compete, the scores are totaled, and the lowest score is the winner.

FALL

Morton's big "M" as portrayed by our great marching band

'63

A look back over the fall season of 1963 revealed truly interesting events. For instance, one remembers which was probably the most outstanding moment of the season. Homecoming as usual is always a most colorful spectacle, and it affords a full day's activities of a parade, a good football game, and an evening dance. Also occurring in the fall is an all-district play produced by the dramatics department. This year a fabulous production of West Side Story was staged. Also introduced this year by the Thespians was a series of great films. The school saw physical changes also. Students were afforded the benefits of a centralized library and a remodeled swimming pool. All changes help to keep Morton up with modern times.

JUNIOR-SENIOR COUNCILS . . .

The purpose of the two councils is to provide service for the school. One way they achieve this is by serving at various banquets throughout the year, such as at the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The boys also act as ushers in the auditorium during assemblies. Occasionally they work on outside activities, such as collecting for the March of Dimes. Mr. Landi and Mr. Larimer also make out each boy's schedule, serving as a home room teacher would. The major activity that the councils undertake each year is the annual Father-Son Banquet.

FROSH-SOPH GIRLS . . . Once again under the direction of Miss N. Hess, the Frosh-Soph Girls contributed valued services to Morton High School and its students. Any freshman or sophomore girl was eligible to become a member of the organization. The girls ushered at many events, served at banquets and dinners, and participated in other worthwhile projects throughout the year.

YEARBOOK

J. Maruna, E. Kasuba, J. Robin

MORTONIAN ANNUAL . . .

Yearbook production is big business. Therefore a yearbook staff must be composed of certain people who can adhere to the policies of good journalism: precision, correctness, completeness, and timeliness. They must be responsible for the entire book from cover to cover.

Working in coordination with the section editors is the art editor who must be proficient and skillful at sketching and composition; the photographer whose knowledge must be applicable to any situation at a moment's notice; and the general staff who donate much time to clerical work. The task of sales promotion is left to the ingenuity of the publicity editor.

groomed, attractive appearance at all times. The club gave girls experience in merchandising, personnel management, and other organizational procedures. Each year the club sponsors an annual dinner-dance for the purpose of honoring senior athletes.

cafeteria looking neat, finding seats for students, explaining the cafeteria rules to incoming freshmen, and reserving tables are just a few of the many services provided by these caf guards. Students are kept informed of school activities by announcements read during their caf period.

wore white blouses and sat in their own reserved section at football and basketball games in order to promote school spirit. If a girl earned enough points by attending athletic events and participating in club functions, she received a pep club "M."

FOOTBALL - STRENGTH

Morton defense causes Evanston to fumble.

Football may be said to rank along with baseball as one of America's most favorite sports. The reason for this, which can be easily seen, is that football is appealing to both the avid sports fans and to the less interested casual observers. To the person who follows sports closely, football is an action packed game which follows certain rules of strategy. To the off and on observers, football is a wild game having interestingly active plays and mysteriously exciting strategies. For those who are not acquainted with interscholastic football, the game is played on a regulation size field, 100 yards from goal line to goal line. The players use regulation equipment also, but they do not play fifteen minute quarters as the pros do, playing four eight minute quarters instead. Nevertheless, high school football requires the same amount of strength, ingenuity, and brainpower as the pro game does.

Most saves in one game—Wally Halama, 54;
Most goals—Joe Bicicchi, 2;

Soccer, long considered a European sport, is slowly, but surely, becoming a favorite sport in America. The game of soccer has been considered to be the forerunner of the American game, football. At first glance, soccer appears to be a haphazard game which is played by kicking a ball around a field until someone kicks it into a goal at one end of the field. In reality, however, soccer is a precision sport requiring complete control of the feet, for the player must be able to control the ball while he is running. In order to score, a player must have complete control of the ball at all times, all the way through both lines of defense and the goalie. For those who are not acquainted with soccer, a team consists of five forwards, the scoring line, three halfbacks, the first defensive line, two fullbacks, the second defensive line, and, finally, the goalie. The game lasts for four quarters, each taking fifteen minutes. Play is continual, unless a foul is committed. It is easy to see why soccer requires both speed and endurance.

To the average observer, cross country may not seem to have the thrills of football or the excitement of baseball. As a competitive sport, however, cross country is both entertaining and beneficial, for it improves the endurance of those who participate in it. The members of the teams enjoy the scenic routes of other schools' tracks. In the meet, each person receives a number of points, according to his place at the end of the two mile run. The school's total is tabulated, the lowest score being the winner. Obviously, strong legs along with good lungs are a necessary requirement for participation in this sport.

One of our school's most active service clubs is the "M" Club, which is composed of Morton's varsity athletes. By acting as ushers at all home basketball and football games, by aiding the community in the Heart Fund Drive, and by helping various school organizations, the "M" Club performs some of the most important services available at Morton. Members are chosen for membership after they have earned a varsity letter in any of the recognized sports. They are required to give a speech concerning the reason why they wish to join the club. After attending one "M" Club activity, they are considered members of the club and can enjoy all of the club's benefits. Officers this year were, Rick Mann, president, Joe Bokr, vice-president, Tom Kazmierczak, treasurer, and Dave Wassel, secretary.

LEADERSHIP . . . Sophomores who are in good scholastic standing and who are recommended by their physical education instructors are eligible for leadership training. After one year of training, they become leaders and may remain leaders in their senior year. As leaders they perform such duties as taking role, acting as referees, and, in general, assisting the P.E. instructors to whom they have been assigned.

These girls help themselves as well as their school by gaining valuable experience in leading and taking responsibility. This, along with their developed skills in speedball, basketball, and other sports, gives these girls a well deserved feeling of accomplishment. This year's leadership instructor was Mrs. E. A. Herda.

CHEERLEADERS . . . One of our school's greatest assets is its cheerleaders. Through their boundless enthusiasm, they inspire the crowd to cheer our teams on to victory. Besides keeping the spirits of our teams up, they have brought home several victories themselves. In competition with cheerleaders from other schools our cheerleaders rank first. Perfection in cheerleading is not their only accomplishment, for in order to remain on the squad, each must keep her scholastic standing above C level. To be able to qualify for the squad, a girl must be able to execute gracefully a cartwheel, handspring, split, and the various cheerleading jumps. Try-outs are held every spring and the new members to the squad are chosen at that time. The girls then practice old cheers and develop new ones. This year both squads were under the able leadership of Mrs. E. A. Herda. The Varsity squad captain this year was Sue Rajspis, while the Sophomore squad captain was Flo Cada. Spectators at our football and basketball games always look forward to seeing our cheerleaders.

WRESTLING PEP CLUB . . . Having been organized this year, this club is one of the most active in our school. By working very hard to get their club going and by attending both home and away wrestling meets, the girls in the club have become strong supporters of our wrestling teams. These girls have found that wrestling is not such a dull sport; in fact they have found wrestling to be a very exciting and interesting sport. Under the able leadership of Coach C. J. Rassmussen, the head wrestling coach, these girls have set a fine example which all wrestling fans should follow. This year's officers were: Captain, Marianne Oliver; Co-Captain, Annie Kelsch; Secretary, Carole Johnson; and Treasurer, Pam Iaculla.

Members are also given the opportunity to become acquainted with the use of such apparatus as the horse, trampoline, balance beam, and high-low bars. Points are earned towards the girls' "M"s by attending meetings and performing the various stunts. Tumbling Club also participates each year in the Homecoming Parade. Towards the end of the year a banquet is held, and girls who have earned sufficient points are awarded their "M"s. This year the club was again under the expert supervision and leadership of Mrs. E. A. Herda.

The members are also given the opportunity of creating their own dances. These girls learn to express themselves and their emotions through various movements. The major event of the year was the Modern Dance Concert which was a success as usual as a result of hard work and perseverance. Modern Dance this year was again under the leadership of Miss J. Ernst without whose expert knowledge of dance the concert would not have been possible.

The girls earn points towards their awards by participating in these various sports. Each year the G.A.A. enters a float in the Homecoming parade. As members of the Girls' Athletic Association, these girls learn the value of sportsmanship and teamwork without the benefit of extramural competition. School improvements such as the newly remodeled pool above exemplify Morton's fine attempt to keep up with modern schooling methods.

In its second great year is the choosing of Miss Morton from each class. Pictured here is Mary Jo Burda, Roz Tanana, Angie Burdi, and Judy Picco.

Completing this 46th edition of the Mortonian Annual is the Winter season of 1963-64. This winter season has truly burst forth with a multitude of school activities. In dramatics we remember the Heiress, and the Boy Friend which appeared on television. Some of us will remember the winter dances, The Christmas, Under the Mistletoe, and the "M" Club Valentine dance, Cupid Goes Courtin'. Those who were in the "M" Club will never forget the initiations, one of which always takes place during the winter. Also the "M" Club for the first time this year was the stage revue which was a successful musical comedy. With the creation of the Auditorium Committee to help improve assemblies, we saw such programs as the dynamic percussion assembly, the yearly Annual assembly, and the Christmas music assembly presented by the Music Department, to name just a few. In its second big year was also the crowning of Miss Morton from each respective class which should continue to be an annual success. Of course, these were only some of the highlights of this past winter season which help to demonstrate how Morton remains one of the top high schools of, to be sure, anywhere.

MORTONIAN NEWSPAPER . . . Once again reporting the school news efficiently, accurately, and concisely was the MORTONIAN student newspaper. Once again under the experienced guidance of Miss H. C. Chrison, the staff maintained the high standards and quality that has been synonymous with all Morton newspapers. This year, because of increased expenses, the staff was forced to levy a one dollar per semester fee for all students who wished to subscribe to the MORTONIAN. Experience in journalism and newspaper writing was necessary in order to become a staff member. The Business staff distributed the newspaper on Fridays.

BOYS' PEP . . . This year under the new advisorship of Mr. D. Musil, the members once again could be found cheering our Mustangs on to a hopeful victory. Although small in size, the club was large in spirit and helped to promote school spirit and enthusiasm among the male faction at Morton.

Aside from acting on stage, the members must have had experience in lighting, make-up, direction, production, and other aspects vital to the presentation of a production of meritorious standards. Under the direction of Miss Y. Ghareeb, the club sponsored a film series and co-sponsored the M Club Revue.

GYMNASTICS

Being physically fit and well co-ordinated are only two of the requirements for a member of the gymnastics team. This underrated sport is one of the most demanding of all interscholastic sports, demanding co-ordination, endurance, and strength. The meets consist of six events: trampoline, rings, tumbling, side horse, parallel bars, and horizontal bar. Each competing school has three members in each event. Each person, in turn, then does his routine in that particular event and is rated in relation to the other five. The team score is calculated by adding the appropriate numbers for the individual scores. The team receives 7 points for a first, 5 for a second, 4 for a third, 3 for a fourth, 2 for a fifth, and 1 for a sixth. During the league meet, the schools send their best men in each event, thereby making it possible for a last place team to emerge a winner.

BASKETBALL - SPEED AND ENDURANCE

Dennis Waldon takes a jump shot against Niles.

Perhaps one of the fastest moving and skill demanding of the interscholastic sports is basketball. Basketball can easily be compared to football in its strategy and in its excitement. On the basis of skill, however, basketball demands much more exactness than any other sport. Through adept handling and control of the ball, the members of the team score their way to victory. Ball handling, however, is not the most important facet, for speed and endurance play just as important a part in winning the game. On the interscholastic level, basketball is played with the same rules and regulations as the professional game. In interscholastic play, though, the three-second lane is six feet deep, as compared to twelve feet in professional play. This exception is one of the very few which separate the two games, two games which are extremely similar in all other respects. Upon casual observation, a high school basketball game can hardly be distinguished from a professional game, for, in the past ten years, the quality of the basketball players playing interscholastic ball has reached the professional level.

Morton's defense goes in for the rebound.

WRESTLING - SPEED AND STRENGTH

Randy Zmrhal drives into his opponent.

To many television fans, wrestling appears as a savage sport not fit for man nor beast. On the interscholastic level, wrestling is both a highly civilized and taxing sport, requiring strength, speed, and quick thinking. The truth of this statement can be easily shown, for such holds as the body slam, the figure four grapevine, and the headlock have been declared illegal in high school competition. Thus, the winning of a match depends upon a blend of the brains, brawn, and co-ordination of the wrestler. Since the "perfect" style for wrestling has not yet been found, the decision of which style to use is left to the wrestler himself. Team scoring is calculated on the basis of each individual match. Five points are awarded for each pinning combination, three points for a win on points, and two points to each competitor for a tie. Each match lasts a total of six minutes, three two minute periods, requiring extreme endurance.

John Patun puts his opponent in a pinning combination.

Joe Szot uses arm drag to take his opponent down.

It is easy to see how a recreational sport like swimming can be turned into a competitive sport. Swimming has so many different facets that the choice of competitive events can be very selective. Diving, of course, is one of the major events in interscholastic swimming. This event, naturally, requires good balance along with co-ordination. Racing swimming events require a great amount of stamina and strength. Unusual amounts of strength, as well as stamina, are necessary for the butterfly event. Sometimes, due to illnesses, a swimmer is forced to compete in more than one event, thus demanding even more endurance than usual. Swimmers receive a number of points comparable to their place in the event, the points are totaled, and the school with the highest score emerges the winner.

THE FUTURE AWAITS

Vocational Office Occupations . . . Once again under the excellent direction of Mr. K. E. Keeling, the Vocational Office Occupations class taught interested girls the skills necessary for the operation of machines necessary to the efficient operation of the various business firms in the community.

Distributive Education . . . Those interested in obtaining future pointers in the business world found it beneficial to belong to Distributive Education. This worthwhile organization offered these students practical as well as theoretical education in economics and salesmanship. Mr. W. C. Swigart capably directs D.E.

Editor's Note

From the moment the opening words of this book about time were first set to paper until the closing words of this editorial, almost a school year has elapsed. Much concerning us has taken place during this time both in and out of school. The events and experiences now past are memories, unchangeable by any present means, good and bad alike, large and small. The important factor concerning us now is not what we could have done, but rather what we are doing and what we shall do. I believe that we should consider this. There are those of us who live only for the present or from day to day, as the expression goes, believing that the "play it by ear" method is best. These people walk through life aware only of the immediate circle of their step. They fail to anticipate the approaching time and events. In the same manner, there are those who look only to the future, their eyes forward, believing that all good things are yet to come. Such individuals pass through life attempting to view a ground that is yet to be trod upon while they trample the present ground. Unless one lives in both the present and the future, with the past as reference, the annals of history will record little significant achievement . . . an infinitesimal wave in a sea of potential. To finally realize a situation of this type too late is truly tragic. Nothing said can even begin to approach its justification, "For of all sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are these: 'It might have been!'"

I wish to express my special thanks to the Mortonian Annual Staff who gave of themselves greatly, in order to create the best possible yearbook. My special thanks also to Mr. R. J. Tudor whom I have been associated with on the Mortonian Annual for the duration of my high school life and whom I have come to respect for his devotion to the student and the book.

James Patcha,
